ATTORNEYS HOST RECEPTION IN ST. CHARLES, MO.
FOR LEGAL SERVICES OF EASTERN MISSOURI

ST. LOUIS – To show their support for Legal Services of Eastern Missouri’s (LSEM) many services and programs, St. Charles attorneys Fred Drakesmith (LSEM board member) and Eric J. Wulff recently hosted a reception at the Grappa Grill in St. Charles, Mo.

Nearly 50 attorneys and judges in St. Charles and the surrounding areas attended the event.

“We want to thank Fred Drakesmith and Eric Wulff and the rest of the attorneys for having this reception on our behalf,” said Dan Glazier, LSEM executive director and general counsel. “Their support and generosity will help our organization provide even more services and programs to our low-income clients in the 21-county area we serve. Our work in St. Charles and adjoining counties is an important part of our mission of legal advocacy on behalf of low-income clients.”

Retired Judge Stephen N. Limbaugh (Armstrong Teasdale) and Carrie Hermeling (Husch Blackwell), who are serving as co-chairs for LSEM’s Second Annual Bar Campaign, were also on hand as well as LSEM’s Jim Guest (director of the Volunteer Lawyers Program) and Jason Dodson (managing attorney of the Lasting Solutions Program, Family Law Unit).

Legal Services of Eastern Missouri (LSEM) is an independent, non-profit organization that has provided high quality legal assistance in civil cases to the low-income community for more than 50 years. LSEM is proud to be a United Way member agency. In 2010, LSEM represented over 21,000 people (including clients and their household members) in 21 counties of eastern Missouri.
